MAIL SERVICE IMPROVEMENTS ORDERED HERE

Postmaster A. E. Beardmore Acts to Speed Up Deliveries

CLERICAL FORCE WILL BE HELPED

Sorting and Distributing Of Mail To Be Speeded Up

Improvements in letter deliveries and parcel post service are expected to go into effect at the Salem post office on, or shortly after April 1, following the approval today by U. S. postal inspectors of a program of recommendations made by the postmaster, A. E. Beardmore.

Inspectors J. T. Ivey, Jr., of Akron and J. M. Murphy, of Toledo filed with the postmaster this morning new schedules and made other recommendations designed to expedite service to patrons in the city.

"Subs" to Be Used

Regular substitutes are to be pressed into service to speed up sorting of mail at the postoffice, to aid carriers in making two deliveries a day and to assist in the delivery of parcel post so that the entire city can be completely covered in one day.

Two parcel post trucks will be used, instead of one. New and modern equipment to aid the clerks in speeding up the sorting and distributing of mail at the postoffice has been ordered to replace some equipment at the postoffice which has been termed "obsolete" by the postal inspectors.

At the request of Postmaster Beardmore, who had received complaints from the city from citizens on the postoffice service, inspectors Ivey and Murphy came here and conducted a four-day survey and inspection early in February. Their reports and suggestions, in turn, were submitted to postal authorities at Washington.

Improve Clerical Service

According to the recommendations, the clerical service at the postoffice is to be improved in the amount of 325 additional hours of substitutes help per quarter. The substitutes will be used in the early morning hours to speed up the sorting of mail in order that carriers can leave the postoffice for their routes on schedule. They are supposed to start out at 8:30 but sometimes it is 9 and even as late as 9:30 before they can leave, Beardmore explained.

Clerical assistance also will include two hours per day at the money order and registry windows. Four hours extra per day at the stamp window and additional help in dispatching mail in the evenings.

An auxiliary mail route is to be established to aid the letter carriers, the postmaster said, representing almost six hours of substitute help. Each carrier will be relieved some part of the day in order that he will be able to complete morning trips on time and be back at the postoffice in time to

TAFT, BRIDGES ON STUMP AGAIN

Campaign Tempo Quickens As New Speaking Tours Open

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The tempo of the campaign for the Republican presidential nomination quickened today, with Senators Taft of Ohio and Bridges of New Hampshire embarking on fresh speaking tours and Thomas E. Dewey of New York preparing to visit Illinois and Wisconsin next week.

Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, who said Wednesday that the Republican nomination should not result from the "transient impulse of a campaign tour," will make a radio speech here Monday night on major 1940 issues.

On the Democratic side, Postmaster General Farley will leave next week on an extensive southern tour. It is billed as a round of post-office dedications, but since Farley now is an avowed candidate for national honors, the trip will have more than ordinary interest to politicians.

Senator Taft, who has appeared in 26 states thus far, would not comment on Vandenberg's statement about campaigning, but by announcing additional speaking dates indicated that he was ignoring it.

He talks tonight at Louisville, Ky., tomorrow at Danville, Ky., Monday at Philadelphia, and March 30 at Newport News, Va.

Taft's friends said he was considering entering the Maryland and West Virginian primaries, and it was "slightly possible" he would go into the South Dakota primary if Dewey

Where's the "Girl They Left Behind?"

Mayor Norman Phillips, accosted by a "drunk" at the corner of N. Ellsworth ave. and Second st. late Thursday afternoon, ordered the fellow out of town.

The "drunk" wanted to fight and the mayor followed him over to an automobile where three companions, also intoxicated, sat waiting. Words were passed but the mayor's repeated order that they all "clear out" took effect and the car sped north on Ellsworth ave. It bore Texas license plates.

At that moment a woman, who had been with the quartet, came running from a nearby gasoline station. But she was left behind.

M'NARY VIEWS TRADE PROGRAM AS VOTE ISSUE

Urges Support for Candidates In Favor of American Markets

APPROVAL OF FARM BILL IS HELD UP

Administration Confident Of Victory In Trade Dispute

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 22.—Republican Leader McNary asserted today that if the senate votes to extend the reciprocal trade program it will furnish one of the major issues of this year's elections.

"In those states where competitive manufactured and agricultural products are produced," he told reporters, "our candidates for congress should receive large support from the voters who believe in maintaining the American market for American laborers and producers."

Would Leave Politics Out

On the other hand, Senator Harrison (D-Miss) said he did not believe politics should enter debate on the bill, which was to be taken up as soon as a vote on the farm bill was reached during the afternoon.

Approval of the $922,000,000 farm bill, carrying $208,000,000 more than the house total, was held up yesterday by an effort to give benefit paymen's to cane sugar growers who increased acreage while quotas were suspended last winter.

Senator Ellender (D-La.) sponsored the proposal. Senator Adams (D-Colo.) declared that if it were successful, he would seek better treatment for beet sugar producers.

In between lengthy speeches, the senate yesterday voted 79 to 0 to allow $85,000,000 extra for the disposal of surplus commodities. Part of the money will be used for the food stamp system to aid many families.

Leans Approved

The senate also approved $40,000,000 of loans for the Rural Electrification Administration and $50,000,000 of loans for the farm tenancy program. The loans were in addition to increased direct expenditures.

In the fight over extending the reciprocal trade program for three years, administration leaders were confident of ultimate victory, although a picture.

Grimm Is Released; Hearing Abandoned

LISBON, March 22.—Robert Grimm, 60, of Wellsville, charged by Sheriff M. K. Duty with manslaughter in connection with the fatal stabbing March 3 of Clarence Walker of East Liverpool, was released on his own recognizance this morning after a conference between counsel for the defendant and Prosecutor Karl Stouffer.

A scheduled pre-trial hearing was abandoned because the state would have had to present evidence it is holding for the grand jury. Grimm's release was approved by Common Pleas Judge W. F. Lones.

The three are charged with the theft of wheat from the farm of Chauncey Ashman on the New Waterford-East Palestine road, and the theft of scrap iron from the William Warren farm, near here.

Schorrey, arrested by Constable George Hartran, confessed and when questioned by Sheriff M. K. Duty and Deputy Otto Stacey in Lisbon, implicated the other two men.

U. S. COMMITTEE VIEWING MINE

Congressmen Open Formal Inquiry Into Ohio Disaster

(By Associated Press)

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, March 22.—A congressional sub-committee, seeking the full story of a frightful blast that rocked the Willow Grove coal mine and killed 72 persons, came here today to launch a formal inquiry.

Rep. Bradley (R-Mich.), a member of the group, said that the committee wanted to learn whether there ever was gas in the mine, whether it was a wet or dry pit, all circumstances relative to storing of explosives, in what ways the operators provided safety precautions, and whether the operators cooperated with the federal and state bureaus of mines.

Mine a "Shambles"

The committee, a unit of the house mines and mining committee, has been considering legislation providing for federal inspection of all mines at least once yearly. Bradley arrived here yesterday and, following a tour, said the mine was a "shambles." The sub-committee will inspect the wreckage before opening the hearing.

The Hanna Coal Co., owners of the mine, said it was "glad" the investigators were coming. Besides Bradley, members of the

REPORT SHAFER "NOT SO GOOD"

Specialists From Walter Reed Hospital Are Expected Here For Consultations

The condition of Paul W. Shafer, U. S. congressman from Michigan, who was injured in a traffic accident on the Lisbon road Wednesday night, was reported "not so good" at Salem City hospital today. Congressman Shafer was reported suffering considerably today from shock as a result of the crackup. He suffered a fractured vertebra when his automobile plunged through a guard rail on a curve at Engleton's glen.

Specialists from Walter Reed hospital are expected to fly here soon from Washington to examine Shafer, who also suffered a deep head wound. Relatives are now making arrangements for the specialists. They will be asked to determine further the extent of his injuries, especially the deep cut on his head.

Although arrangements for the trip are still not complete, Salem state highway patrolmen will meet the physicians when they land, either at the Alliance or Warren airport.

Driver Dozes Off; Passenger Injured

Nicolas Tatu, 20, of 388 Perry st., suffered a compound fracture of the nose and lacerations of the tongue when the automobile in which he was riding struck a culvert on the Lisbon road, two miles south of Salem, at 2:15 a. m. today.

Tatu was removed to the Central Clinic. Bruce Whitcomb, 20, of 1085 E. Third st., driver of the machine, escaped uninjured. He told State Patrolman Robert Jones he fell asleep while driving toward Salem.

New French Policy Is Outlined Before Chamber By Premier

New Government Has Only One Reason For Existence, Says Daladier's Successor—"To Win the War"

(By Associated Press)

PARIS, March 22.—Premier Paul Reynaud's government received a minority vote of confidence in the chamber of deputies today. The official vote was 269 favorable, 156 against and there were 110 abstentions.

PARIS, March 22.—Paul Reynaud in his first appearance as premier before the chamber of deputies today pledged in a ministerial declaration "to direct all French energies to fight and to win" the war against Germany which, he said, was "aided by the treachery of the Soviets."

His government had only one reason for existence, he said—"to win the war."

"To win is to save everything," he said. "To lose is to lose all."

In a short, blunt statement of policy the new premier declared that "France is engaged in complete war."

Reynaud faced the chamber of deputies less than 24 hours after the rapid completion of his government, replacing that of Edouard Daladier. The cabinet had given approval to his statement, promising action in the war against Germany.

Ministers Meet Twice. The ministers met twice. After a private meeting with Reynaud at the Elysee Palace they reassembled as a council of ministers under President Albert Lebrun.

Reynaud, whose new administration still faces its first test in a parliament at least partly hostile, was prepared to appear personally before the chamber of deputies today while his vice premier, Camille Chautemps, read his declaration in the senate.

Without making public his reasons, Jean Le Cour Grandmaison resigned as undersecretary of the navy after being in Reynaud's new government only one night. He is considered an "extreme rightist."

Reynaud's first big job as successor to resigned Premier Edouard Daladier was to ease France past her first political crisis of the war by overcoming opposition which

MASONS ATTEND CHURCH RITES

Knights Templar at Holy Week Services In Presbyterian Church; Hear Rev. R. D. Walter

Knights Templar members, Salem commandery No. 42, attended the Holy Week service at the Presbyterian church last night. More than 500 Masons and members of the Presbyterian congregation were present at the service, at which seven new members, Misses Carolyn Bush, Christine Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund H. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Allen M. Chandler, Mrs. David Harris and Mrs. Muriel Williams were received.

The group of new members brought the record of increased membership for the year to 106, several more than the goal set, and the largest number of new members received during any year of Rev. R. D. Walter's pastorate here.

W. Wentz Alspaugh directed the choir in a special anthem and Rev. Walter spoke on "The Agony of Jesus."

Plans are nearing completion for the celebration of the ninth anniversary of Rev. Walter's pastorate, which will be Sunday, May 12. The annual Mother's day service of the church will be held at that time also.

Marking the close of the church year, infant baptismal service will be held at the church next Sunday, March 31.

THOSE RESILIENT FRENCHMEN

In the past 66 years the republic of France has survived 100 cabinet changes—and France still is a going institution.

Americans do not understand a country whose governments are changed as easily as a man switches hats. A national election every four years strikes them as a lot of trouble to give to government.

They do not understand French political parties, which call themselves one name and act like other names. Nor do they understand the professional politicians who weave in and out of governments, sometimes in one job, sometimes in another, but never far from the seat of authority.

Least of all do Americans understand a nation whose governments seem shakier when they need to be strongest and strongest when they could afford to be shaky. Resignation of Edouard Daladier, who has answered criticism of his war policies by resigning as premier at the moment when Germany is threatening to start World War II in earnest, strikes them as something that only 40,000,000-odd resilient Frenchmen could stand. Meanwhile, the odds stand at better than two to one that 101 cabinet changes in 67 years won't affect France perceptibly one way or the other.

OLD AGENTS FOR NEW AGENCIES

Decision of the house labor committee to recommend a five man labor board to congress, supplanting the present three man board, shows which way the wind is blowing.

Official thought on the labor board issue is to resolve existing doubts and criticisms by juggling the board's personnel, letting the labor set stand as it is, pending further trial.

The board is one of the "new agencies of public power" referred to by President Roosevelt as being helpful in the right hands, dangerous in the wrong hands. Tennessee valley authority was another new agency.

Such instrumentalities, unless they are to betray the faith placed in them by their creators and intended beneficiaries, call for a new type of public servant. He must be free from pettiness, capable of taking in the largest scope of the problems with which his streamlined agency is dealing.

It needs no arguing that the labor relations board so far has not been blessed with administrators who were a credit to the aspirations of those who bestowed on them probably more power than is safe for one small group of men to have.

SPRING COLDS

His countrymen, all kidding aside, are sorry President Roosevelt has a spring cold. (Spring arrived Wednesday afternoon; on Wednesday morning the President's reported an official temperature of 99.4 degrees.)

A spring cold is worse than a winter cold because in spring there are more important things to do than snuffle. The White House schedule, more rigorous at its easiest than the schedules of other houses, leaves no room for grappling with that all-gone feeling.

Mr. Roosevelt won't be able to pull down the shades and let the world go hang till he feels equal to looking it in the eye again. He will have problems on his mind. He must see visitors on business. He must be, within the limits of his endurance, agreeable.

There are some things about being chief executive of the United States that excite envy, but being in bed with a cold in springtime isn't one of them. The least a man should be granted under such circumstances is to be miserable in peace. Probably a third term never looked less attractive to Franklin D. Roosevelt than it does right now.

THE ART OF DIPLOMACY

The reading public is indebted to a popular magazine with a penchant for publishing timely articles for the life story of James H. R. Cromwell the same day his name makes news. Mr. Cromwell, U. S. minister to Canada, has attracted critical attention by a recent speech in Toronto that committed him lock, stock and barrel to the allies and against Germany. Diplomats don't customarily declare war on their own hook, or make momentous speeches without consulting their superiors in advance.

It might be argued, off his record, that Mr. Cromwell isn't a diplomat, but that would be a quibble. Presumably, the administration knew as much or more about him before sending him to Canada than the writer of the article in the popular magazine knew—so it must have known it wasn't appointing another Sumner Welles. At the risk of laboring the point, this seems important. Far from surprising his sponsors in Washington by what he has said, it may be assumed just as logically that Mr. Cromwell has done exactly what they expected him to do.

REVISED VERSION

This department, striving to make an interpretation that will hold water, has examined all the things Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini might have said to each other at Brennero.

It has reached several conclusions:

1. That Hitler must have done all the talking and Mussolini all the listening, because only Berlin seems to know what the conversation contained.

2. That things must be almost as bad as pessimists say they are when two men can throw the world into a sweat by getting their heads together.

3. That in the absence of positive information to the contrary, this department, still striving to make an interpretation that will hold water, is going to play safe. It is going to assume that since no one knows what was said, therefore nothing was said. It was one of those long embarrassing silences that sometimes fall between men who don't trust each other further than they could throw Hermann Goering by one leg. Furthermore, they didn't need to say anything. They knew the second guessers would say everything worth saying.

A PARTICULARLY lively and exciting day, with many things moving under high pressure, is read from the interesting chain of planetary configurations. While there will be a fine display of initiative, courage and strenuous attack, especially in the direction of putting over major propositions or new and highly-constructive programs, in some instances the employment of subtle acumen, strategy or diplomacy might prove quite as effective as sledge hammer blows. A similar condition pervades the private life, where social activities, emotional urge and romance are under high stimuli.

Those whose birthday it is are under strenuous, creative and highly emotional urges during the year, with many things, business and personal, moving swiftly and under high tension. Much is to be gained in launching new projects of major importance, and while pressure, aggressiveness, audacity and ingenuity count for much, in some critical spots sagacity, compromise or policy may prove more lucrative.

A child born on this day may have much ingenuity and skill, with highly-constructive and practical abilities, bold and resolute.

A new dilemma, of a chemical nature, arises to bedevil Carol of Roumania. He would like to know what to pour on troubled oil.

Manipulative Treatment Has Benefits, Says Doctor

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

THERE ARE signs that the regular medical profession is taking up massage and other manipulative treatments. This is a good thing. There is no reason why the benefits of manipulation should remain exclusively in the hands of osteopaths and chiropractors. Massage should be taught in all medical schools and practitioners should use it often, either themselves or by sending the patient to a qualified masseur.

There are many erroneous conceptions of the effects of real massage. A "good" masseur is often thought to be one who gives the hardest treatment. This view is incorrect. Diametrically opposite effects may be obtained in giving massage. Sustained vibration between the scapulae will slow the pulse, while what is called "tapotement," rhythmically tapping in the same place, will quicken it.

Way It's Applied: The results of massage depend entirely on the way in which it is applied. It may be sedative or stimulating, or even irritating.

There are five kinds of massage manipulations: (1) Effleurage, which is slow, gentle, rhythmic strokings. It may be deep or superficial. (2) Petrissage, kneading or compressing. (3) Friction, which consists of deep, circular, rolling movements, done with one or two fingers or part of the hand. (4) Tapotement, hacking, clapping, cupping or tapping, or beating a part, more or less rhythmically. (5) Vibration, which consists of vibratory movements imparted through the operator's fingers or hands by contractions of his arm and shoulder muscles. The last is one of the most useful forms of manipulation but it is trying to the unskilled operator, and for that reason is not used enough.

What It's Used For: Massage should be used for (1) muscular atrophy from any cause; (2) to increase metabolism; (3) to lessen scar tissue; (4) to assist circulation; (5) for sedation or stimulation of the nervous system; (6) to improve the skin and its functions.

There are certain things that massage will not do. We often hear claims made that massage will reduce weight. The most experienced masseurs, with the best training state frankly that they cannot reduce weight by massage alone. The weight loss that occurs from massage is principally fluid lost through improved elimination, and is quickly replaced in the absence of other measures.

The fact that massage has persisted as a form of treatment through the ages is the best indication of its eternal value.

Theatre Attractions

Brilliant performances by Ronald Colman, Walter Huston and Ida Lupino, in the leading roles, are responsible for placing "The Light That Failed," Rudyard Kipling's well known story, at the State tonight and Saturday, in the list of the year's best productions.
 Colman has the kind of role he does to perfection, his best since that of Sidney Carton in "The Tale of Two Cities." He is seen as an English artist-adventurer who achieves wide recognition as a painter of flattering portraits. With nothing more worth while to his credit, he learns that an injury received in the Sudan with the English army is causing his sight to fail. He sets about painting a masterpiece that will make his name remembered.

 Huston has the role of his tolerant, kindly war-correspondent friend, who, in befriending a street gamin, played by Ida Lupino, finds the artist a model and an implacable enemy. The artist's sweet heart, who has refused his love because he cannot attain his success as an artist, comes to see the masterpiece he has finished before total darkness overtakes him, and sees that it is nothing but a blur of colors. She leaves without telling him, but the street girl who was his model, in a burst of fury, tells him that she has ruined his masterpiece that will make his name remembered.
 With the rest of his life to be lived in darkness, without the girl he loves and without the knowledge that he has one fine thing to leave behind him, the artist faces an empty existence until his gallant courage finds a way for him.

 At the Grand tonight and Saturday is William Boyd in "The Showdown," a Hopalong Cassidy story.

(No wonder that George McLaughlin, Brooklyn banker, and Branch Rickey are trying to buy the club!) Freddie Miller former king of the feathers, is getting ready for a comeback.

What Is What?

Jack Dempsey in Des Moines, May 12, 1938: "Paycheck is a very good boy with a fine left and good right. All he needs is weight and experience."

Jack Dempsey in Minneapolis, March 18, 1940: "Paycheck fighting Louis makes me laugh."

So what's going on around here? The Syracuse publicity department has been doing a pretty neat job of squelching the news that Bernie Batten, star sophomore end, has dropped out of school. Patty Berg says the two biggest thrills she got in the south were a luncheon with Dempsey and a round of golf with Babe Ruth. Petey Scalzo and Jimmy Perrin will fight for the N. B. A. version of the featherweight, crown on a date to be designated by the N. B. A. Joey Archibald, ordered to fight Scalzo, snubbed the N. B. A. and will be uncrowned March 28.

Today's Guest Star

Art Cohn, Oakland Tribune: "Action: Slip Madigan says he'll quit coaching and go into business."

Reaction: I am not even mildly surprised considering that Slip has just been given the "business."

The reason Judge Landis left the All-Star game a most with the first pitch is that he had been laid up with a severe cold. Dick Bartlett revealed he challenged Gabby Hartnett to a fight no less than four times last year.

Misunderstanding

Down at Orlando they are ribbing Joe Cambria, Washington one-man scouting system about this one. One of the numerous Cubans imported by Cambria was very much surprised when he reached camp and was handed a baseball bat. He thought he was being hired to drive a laundry wagon.

Free trip department: Dr. Robert Hutchins of the U. of Chicago may get an idea from this: The Beverly club of the Essex county (Mass.) league not only will de-emphasize football, but will drop baseball entirely.

BOSTON—To gain relief from asthma, Dr. Walter S. Burrage suggests that sufferers go to a horror movie or work themselves into a rage. In a health lecture he said that "all allergies—and asthma is an allergy—respond quickly to adrenalin injection. Our bodies manufacture adrenalin when great fright or rage possesses us."

BOISE, Ida.—An epidemic of "milking duels" between mayors of various communities throughout Idaho has started since Gov. C. A. Bottolfsen outshone Mayor James Straight of Boise in a milking contest here.

HULL PUNISHES CANADA ENVOY

Cromwell Is Reprimanded for Anti-German Talk

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 22—James H. R. Cromwell, millionaire diplomat of two months' service as minister to Canada, has been reprimanded by Secretary of State Hull for the anti-German speech he delivered at Toronto.

The secretary used straightforward language last night in taking to task the husband of Doris Duke, "world's richest girl."

Contravened Instructions
"Secretary Hull found," a state department announcement said, "that the address, contravened standing instructions to American diplomatic officers, that public discussions of controversial policies of other governments, particularly with governments engaged in war, without the prior knowledge of this government, is not in accord with such instructions."

"Such public statements by our diplomatic representatives are likely to disturb the relations between this and other governments."

Cromwell was admonished not to repeat the breach of regulations. Hull's rebuke was issued in the midst of congressional agitation for the new minister's recall. It also came at a time when the German embassy here was reliably reported to be considering a formal protest. The state department's action, however, was believed likely to forestall any such representation.

Has No Comment
Cromwell was expected here either today or tomorrow on a visit planned before his pro-rally remarks made him the center of controversy. He has refused all comment on the repercussions from his speech.

The Toronto speech actually was the second to contain pro-ally statements. The first was made at Val D'or, Canada, on March 10. Cromwell repeated that he believed "the Allies were fighting for the perpetuation of individual liberty and freedom" and voiced hopes for allied victory.

The Philosophy of totalitarian governments, he said, "means the end of democracy and the free economy on which democracy depends."

LONDON—The United States may have its air hostesses, but Britain has "air-raid hostesses." Their job will be to claim women and children who show signs of hysteria in event of an air raid.

is entered. All these contests are in May.

Discusses Issues
Bridges, in commenting on Vandenberg's statement, said his own cross-country speech-making has been primarily to acquaint the nation with issues and that the furtherance of his personal "availability" for the nomination has been "secondary."

He speaks in Cleveland tomorrow, at Chapel Hill, N. C., Tuesday, and at Hackensack, N. J., April 4. Vice President Garner took formal action last night to get his name in the California primary on May 7. He sent an affidavit to the California secretary of state endorsing a list of 48 Garner-pledged delegates. Mr. Roosevelt's name also is entered there.

Students Injured

TOLEDO, March 22—An automobile-school bus collision slightly injured three persons and shook 19 pupils of St. Elizabeth and Richfield center township schools at Toledo's outskirts yesterday. Injured were Nancy Cook, 8, and Stella Marie Roock, 6, students from Berkey, and Mrs. Audrey Uhler, 38, of Cleveland, driver of the automobile.

threatened his administration even before it was fully launched.

Both the press and parliament lobbed criticism of his cabinet's size, its leftwing complexion and its large number of hold-overs from Daladier's regime.

23 In Cabinet

Instead of a compact government, Reynaud produced a cabinet of 23 ministers—three more than in Daladier's—despite the clamor for one of wedy size.

It failed also to meet demands for a national union government including all parties from right to left.

On both of these counts, however, Reynaud went part way to satisfy critics of his predecessor.

He created a "war committee," a kind of inner cabinet which will meet several times a week. Besides Reynaud, in the dual capacity of premier and foreign minister: Daladier, national defense minister; Georges Mandel, Minister of colonies; Raoul Dautry, minister of armaments; and Lucien Lamoureux, minister of finance.

And he broadened the base of the cabinet, taking in members of eight political parties, among whom were three Socialists. The large Socialist group had no representation in the Daladier cabinet.

though they forecast a 10-day or two-week debate.

Republicans predicted an almost solid minority vote against the bill, with Senator Taft (R-Ohio) still in the doubtful class.

Taft said he intended to propose an amendment which would require a finding by the tariff commission that any rate reduction would not permit foreign goods to come into this country at less than cost of domestic production.

"If the senate rejects my amendment," he told reporters, "I will vote for senate ratification of each trade agreement."

While the house was in recess for the Easter week-end, Senate Leader Barkley was trying to hasten the dragging senate pace. He said that Saturday sessions might become the rule rather than the exception.

It is possible, he added, that congress may adjourn considerably in advance of June 1.

FRANCE TESTS ARMY DEFENSE

Indo-China Troops Turn Back "Invading" Army In Maneuvers

SAIGON, French Indo-China — France's colonial army in Indo-China, representing the strongest military force of any of the Western powers in the Far East, has tested its strength, repulsing in maneuvers an "invasion" of "enemy" forces in the jungle area between Cambodia and Indo-China. The invasion constituted this year's war game, during which about 12,000 men, 800 horses and quantities of the latest type of equipment were put to a test.

Although the French army in Indo-China is said to number more than 50,000 men at present, only a comparatively small part of this force took part in the exercises, staged in the area bounding the Gulf of Siam.

As many of the troops participating in the maneuvers were reservists called to the colors since the outbreak of war in Europe, special importance was attached to the test by the French general staff.

Japanese Observer Present
A Japanese military observer, Col. Nihura, was present at the exercises for the first time in history. Two high officers of the British Malaya command, stationed in Singapore, Brigadier A. C. M. Paris, who commands the Indian troops, and Lieut. Col. J. Dallas-Edge of the Royal Artillery, represented the British army. Gen. Fou Kial-jen represented the Chinese army. Major van Veen the Netherlands army and Major Tehal Prathib Sena the Thai (Siamese) army.

North forces under the command of Gen. de Boisbessol went on the defensive when the South, commanded by Gen. Gouachon, swept in from the sea near Haiphong, Penh, capital of the Khmer empire, seeking to break communications between Cambodia and Indo-China.

Kampot is nearly 100 miles from the capital, on the Gulf of Siam, and is used generally only by native shipping, since it is not accessible to ordinary ocean-going vessels. The attacking force was presumed to have established a base at a nearby island.

French aircraft carried out reconnaissance flights, located troop dispositions and bombarded two districts held by the "enemy." By the end of the maneuvers, the North had established a decisive advantage and after a fierce "battle" in difficult country the North drove the "enemy" in headlong retreat back to the sea.

Admiral Also Watches

During the final stages, Gen. Catroux, Governor-General of French Indo-China in the absence of M. Jules Brevie, Gen. Martin, commander of the Indo-China forces, and Admiral Decoux, the French naval commander-in-chief in the Far East, watched the maneuvers from general headquarters. Gen. Catroux inspected the troops on two fronts and commented favorably on their training.

MRS. ORR HITS 594 IN LADIES' BOWLING MEET

Appears Certain To Cop Singles Championship In Pin Tourney

It's practically safe to say that the new singles champion of the annual Salem women's handicap bowling tournament will be Mrs. Frieda Orr.

The singles event has one more night to run, but there is little likelihood of anybody topping the 594 score Mrs. Orr turned in at the Masonic temple alleys last night.

Hits 591 Actual
Allowed only three free pins, Mrs. Orr made up for her small handicap by firing a splendid 591 series in actual pins. She started off with a 168 game, jumped to 220 in the second heat and finished with 203. Her series is one of the highest ever rolled by a Salem woman in league or tournament competition.

Mrs. Orr is not a newcomer to the ranks of Salem's top-flight women bowlers. Earlier this season she rolled the highest series ever recorded by a Salem woman, hitting 508 in a special match.

Mrs. Orr's 594 score featured the second night of singles competition during which all five leading positions changed hands. Four other women, in addition to Mrs. Orr, rolled into the money in the individual event.

Mrs. Esie Briggs of Leetonia took over second place with a 555 score, including a 39-pin handicap. Mrs. Briggs posted games of 217, 164 and 135 for a 516 series in actual pins.

Third place became the possession of Mrs. Eileen Warren, who hit 542 with the aid of a 138-pin handicap. Mrs. Warren had a 404 series in actual pins, rolling games of 135, 137 and 132.

Cops Fourth Place
Miss Helen Nahar moved into fourth position with a 530 score, lacking a 102-pin handicap onto a 428 series in actual pins. She turned in games of 120, 145 and 163.

Miss Olive Ramsey, bowling from scratch, took over fifth place, last in the prize list, with an actual pin series of 515. Miss Ramsey fired games of 163, 180 and 182.

Other good scores last night included a 432 series by Mrs. Gladys Rowand, a 497 by Mrs. Ann Akens and a 483 by Mrs. Haidee Cunningham.

The singles competition will end tonight, bringing to a close the tournament which opened a week ago last Tuesday.

Four Teams Scheduled to Bowl In Detroit Over Weekend

Four teams affiliated with the Salem Bowling association are scheduled for action this weekend in the 40th annual American Bowling Congress tournament in Detroit. The Trades Class is slated to bowl in the five-man event tonight, while the Salem Eagles, Columbiana Firestones and Columbiana Eaton's are scheduled to take the alleys tomorrow.

Members of the Trades Class team are Clarence Houts, Hillis Linton, Joe Jackson and Arthur, Rudy and Walter Bodendorfer.

Eagles Lineup
Bowling for the Eagles will be Bob Tubbs, Bill Finley, Mike Hutter, Tom Reese, Ralph Gregg and Merle (Red) White.

The lineup of the Columbiana Firestones, booster champions of the A. B. C. tournament last year, lists Cliff Bowling, George Hoover, Mark Klingensmith, Earl Patterson and Clarence Shontz.

Eaton's squad includes W. J. "Bill" Eaton, G. G. Patchen, John Harding, Arthur Lennis, Glenn Libbert and Harold Hoffmaster.

Bowlers on the Eagles, Firestones and Eaton's squads will compete in the doubles and singles event Sunday. The Trades Class keglers are not entered in doubles and singles.

One other Salem team, the Salem News, will bowl in the A. B. C. tournament April 9 and 10.

Big Weekend Due
DETROIT, March 22.—The heaviest assault since the American Bowling Congress tournament opened March 7 gets under way tonight when 73 high-average teams from eight states take over the drives.

The Vogel team of Forest Park, Ill., who finished second in the 1938 tournament at Chicago with a 3,697 total, and the Breit five of Elizabeth, N. J., are rated as top threats to displace the Ambrosia team of Chicago, current leaders with a score of 2,992.

Booker teams, most of them from the Detroit area, failed to upset any of the leaders yesterday.

Ellis, who finished second in the 1938 tournament at Chicago with a 3,697 total, and the Breit five of Elizabeth, N. J., are rated as top threats to displace the Ambrosia team of Chicago, current leaders with a score of 2,992.

Ohio Cage Coaches Reject Proposal To Raise Basket

By RAY BLOSSER

CLEVELAND, March 22.—Ohio area coaches responded today with an emphatic no to the basketball rule makers' newest ditty: A basket, a basket, shall we raise the basket?

Floyd A. Rowe, one of 14 members of the national basketball committee, sent questionnaires to 1,000 representative basketball men in Ohio, Tennessee, Kentucky and West Virginia and drew about 200 replies.

Only 40 favored and 152 were against encouraging experimentation with baskets 11 or 12 feet high, compared with the present ten-foot height. By virtually the same margin—151-43—they likewise rejected baskets without a backboard. They voted 135-40 against use of convex backboards.

"The tall man still has the advantage, no matter how high you put the basket," declared Rowe, physical education director for Cleveland public schools, adding: "I don't think raising it would make much difference. The one thing it would do is make the ball, on missed shots, rebound farther from the backboard and thus end some of the congestion and fouls around the basket."

Rowe pointed out that the rules committee, which meets March 30 at Kansas City, prefers to make no changes in rules unless 70 to 80 per cent of the coaches are shown to be in agreement.

Rule changes made last spring were generally satisfactory, but the basketball men declared officials have not properly enforced the rule awarding two free throws to a player fouled from behind while throwing.

They voted 126-68 that the rule hadn't been enforced, then added by a 139-49 margin that the present law was satisfactory. A majority agreed, by the narrower 107-76 vote, that the rule was tended to eliminate the deliberate push in the back.

SPOKANE, Wash.—The city of Spokane has a large sign suspended in front of police headquarters warning motorists and pedestrians of the number of traffic fatalities. Police Chief Ira Martin said he believed it contributed largely to holding the accident toll at a low figure.

SANITARY WINS FIRST GAME OF TITLE SERIES

Employment Service Five Drops Verdict As League Play-off Gets Under Way

National Sanitary Gains 43-33 Victory In Opening Game of Class A Championship Series; Cadets Win Class B Round Robin

The National Sanitary was within one game of the season's championship of the Class A basketball league today after spanking the Ohio State Employment Service, 43 to 33, at the Memorial building last night in the first game of a best two-out-of-three series.

The two teams will meet again Monday night in the second game of the series. A victory in the second game will give the Sanitary the Class A championship.

Opening with a 12-point spurt while holding the O. S. E. S. passers scoreless in the first quarter, the Sanitary remained out in front throughout the contest, staying off a third-quarter rally by the Employment Service before clinching the victory.

The Sanitary led 12-1 at the close of the first quarter and was on the long end of a 19-10 count at halftime.

Eddie Pukalski, who remained out of the O. S. E. S. lineup in the first half because of a cold, went into game in the third quarter and sparked a rally which saw the Employment Service quintet move to within two points of tying the score.

Pukalski hit six long range shots to cut the Sanitary's lead from 19-10 to 24-22, but after the sudden spurt the O. S. E. S. bogged down and by the time the third period ended the Sanitary was out in front 32-24.

Protecting its comfortable lead in the fourth quarter, the Sanitary scored 11 points to the Employment Service team's nine.

Big Bob Jeffries, leading scorer of the Class A league, was the big gun for the Sanitary, flipping seven field goals through the hoop for 14 points. Al Catlos and Frankie Culler tallied nine points apiece for the Enamelware cagers.

Two other games saw the Carroll Cadets annex the round robin championship of the Class B league by defeating the Trades Class, 32 to 31, and the Methodists trip the Trinity Lutherans, 33 to 27, in the first game of a Church league championship playoff.

By defeating the Trades Class, the Cadets qualified to meet the Baptists in a playoff for the season's championship of the Class B league. The Baptists won the first half of the Class B race.

The Cadets-Trades Class tilt was a see-saw affair with the lead changing hands several times late in the fourth quarter after the Trades Class had led 28-24 at the end of the third period.

The scoring was even in the first quarter as both teams counted 10 points, but in the second period the Cadets moved out in front to lead, 19-14, at halftime. A rally brought the Trades Class from behind and enabled them to hold a four-point

GIANTS MAY BE SURPRISE CLUB OF 1940 SEASON

Terrymen Likely to Finish Much Higher Than Expected

BY GAYLE TALBOT
WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 22.—If any team in baseball is likely to prove a surprise in the coming season and finish notches ahead of the place assigned it by a consensus of experts, it is the New York Giants in the National league.

Last season the team came almost completely apart and wound up fifth, 18½ games behind the winning Cincinnati Reds. Its pitching staff was shot and it had no infield worthy of the name. The climax came when Zeke Bonura finally was yanked off first base.

Some who have been watching the Giants in training here and in their exhibition games with other clubs do not believe they will do any better this year.

Could Finish Third
But all of them are extremely likely to be wrong if what I've seen of the Giants on three occasions lately bears any resemblance to the truth. They are not equipped to beat either Cincinnati or St. Louis but they could finish a powerful third.

The main reason is that Carl Hubbell, at the age of 36, has come back to pitch like his old self this spring. Twice I've seen the old screwball master fluttering them across for sustained stretches, and the opposing batters couldn't have hit him with a ball fiddle.

He says his famous left arm, which was operated upon winter before last, finally is as sound and strong as ever. He believes he will be good for 15 or 16 victories this season.

That will be sufficient to keep the Giants up in the fight, declared a high club official. "Hub always was the leader," he said. "Our pitchers fell off last year only when they saw Carl was having trouble. They had grown used to him carrying the load. But if he comes back it'll be a great thing for us."

Whether there's anything to this or not, the fact remains that the club has been getting dazzling pitching from Slim Melton, Harry Gumbert, Bill Lohrman, Hal Schumacher and Hy Vandenberg.

Strength at Third
Another reason the Giants had best not be sold too short is the way Burgess Whitehead is playing third base. Shifted over to make room for the club's crack young second baseman from Newark, Nick Witek, Whitehead is playing the hot corner like he had been there all his life. Bill Jurgens still is the best shortstop in the league, and Babe Young promises to do at first base.

If the recent All-Star game was any criterion, the Giants have the best catcher in the league—Harry Danning—and two of its best outfielders—Mel Ott and Frank Demaree. Joe Moore is in poor health and has a bad leg, so the veteran left fielder's post probably will be held down by Rookie John Rucker at the start of the race.

Defending Champion Cops Second Place In Singles Event Of Tenpin Tourney

Johnny Meier Fails to Repeat As Individual Champ, But Makes Strong Showing; Leaders Remain Unchanged In Two Events

The long-standing tradition that tournament bowling champions rarely repeat caught up with Johnny Meier in the fifth annual City Handicap Tenpin classic at the Grate Recreation alleys last night.

Bidding for his second straight singles championship, Meier made a strong showing but failed to take over the leading position currently held by Wally Davis with a 643 score.

Meier, who won the singles event last year with a 681 total, fired a 638 series, including a 39-pin handicap, in his attempt to repeat. His score is good for second place in the current standings.

Other Changes
Three other changes were made in the singles prize list and six in the doubles, but none affected the top-ranking positions. Davis continued to lead the singles list, while Earl Grate and Jim Jackson remained on top in the doubles with a 1238 score posted Wednesday night.

In taking over second place in the singles, Meier shot a 599 series in actual pins. He had games of 191, 226 and 182.

Ralph Gregg also turned in a 599 series in actual pins, but his handicap was lower than Meier's, forcing him to be content with fifth place. Gregg received 27 free pins, adding these to his 599 series for a 626 score. His games were 204, 188 and 207.

Dr. George Jones moved into a tie for ninth place in the individual event with a 610 score, including a 99-pin handicap. Counting 511 in actual pins, Dr. Jones rolled games of 176, 189 and 146.

The only other change in the singles saw M. York of the E. W. Bliss Co. roll into 16th place with a 598 score. York combined a 90-pin handicap with a 508 series, made on games of 171, 173 and 164.

Another Champ Fails
The attempt of another champion to repeat, in the doubles, failed as Bill Finley combined with Ralph Gregg to post a 1,041 score which ranks far behind the leaders in the two-man event. Finley shared the doubles championship last year with Paul Covert, who has since moved to Erie, Pa.

Of the six changes in the doubles last night, the most important sent Dr. Jones and Ralph Zimmerman into sixth place and Don Matthews and Dr. Richard Harwood into seventh position.

Dr. Jones and Zimmerman posted a 1,175 score with the aid of a 201-pin handicap. Dr. Jones led the team with a 492 series. Zimmerman totaled 482.

Matthews and Dr. Harwood totaled 1,166, including a 185-pin handicap, to take over seventh place in the doubles. Matthews contributed 554 to the pair's total, while Dr. Harwood had 447.

Other changes in the doubles placed the Meier brothers, Johnny and Al, in a tie for 11th place with a 1,148 score. Chuck Huffer and Starbuck in a tie for 14th position with a 1,142 total; Don Quinn and Zernechel in 18th place with 1,134 and Dodge-Hartsough in 20th position, last in the prize list, with 1,126.

As bowlers go into the last night of firing in the tournament, scores of 591 in the singles and 1,126 in the doubles are still in the money.

Finalists Get $70 Apiece For Every Game At Columbus

COLUMBUS, March 22.—Ohio's high school basketball teams that got to the state tournament are going to get $70 for each game they played.

Athletic Commissioner H. R. Townsend finished his tournament bookkeeping yesterday and announced that the 1940 classic broke the attendance record by 101 and total receipts records by $3. The turnstiles recorded 30,237 paid customers and the total money came to $16,016.50.

The outlay included $5,261.50 for team expenses.

On the basis of $70 for each game played, bonuses will be: New Carlisle, Canfield, New Philadelphia and Canton McKinley, $280 each; Smithfield, Glenford, Massillon, and Dayton Fairview, $210; Willshire, Midvale, Amanda, Holgate, Akron Buchtel, Findlay, Akron South and Cincinnati Woodward, $140; Marysville, Waynesburg, Germantown, Bluffton, Rutman, Sandusky St. Mary's, Hanover, Kitts Hill, Bellefontaine, Defiance, Martins Ferry, Marietta, Canton Lehman, Toledo Waite, Columbus Central and Bellevue, $70.

The Class A title was won by New Philadelphia, with New Carlisle taking Class B laurels.

CHARLESTON, W. Va.—Several hundred dolls dressed in the native costumes of 30 countries, were sold here to raise money to purchase reference books for the Morris Harvey College library.

"SELF MADE GIRL" by HAZEL LIVINGSTON

CHAPTER XVI

Blanche came over and took Linda's two hands in hers. "Linda, you aren't thinking of him still?"

Linda pulled her hands away. "What?"

"I mean.... Well, I know you had a childish case on him but I thought it was all over. I never thought that you still—"

"Of course it's all over! Heavens, Blanche! We've grown up. But he still writes occasionally, and I still like him just as he likes me—as a friend. No law against it, is there?"

"I hope you don't think I'm interfering. You had such ideas as a child, and I was just startled for a moment. I know you've gotten over them, of course. We're just plain people, Linda, and I think we're all happier when we realize it and make the best of it.... Don't you?"

Linda tried to swallow the resentment that she knew was unreasonable. She felt uncomfortable, and wished she hadn't come. They couldn't see things the same way.... but now that she was here....

"How's Bert?" she asked, to change the subject again.

"Oh Bert's pretty well. He keeps to himself—we don't see much of him. He's been good, he's helped a lot. I told you we had to help Lawrie, and then there was that expensive roofing job on the house—"

"Don't you get any rent for the house?"

"Oh, yes! Except that we have had a run of bad luck with people that can't pay. I always meant to write you about that, Linda, but I never got around to it. You might have wondered why you didn't get your share of the rent—not that it would be much, when there are five of us. But with Claudine and Lawrie needing it most, we've just let them have it."

Linda thought of that first year and a half in New York. Nobody asked if she needed help then.

"I thought," Blanche said, a little hesitantly, "that you're doing so nicely, maybe you could help a little, too. I do what I can for Claudine, but it's Lawrie that's the worst off. He never does have steady work, poor boy, and Della isn't a very good manager—"

Resentment curled Linda's full red lip. They wanted her to help. They would! Her hundred and ten a month might sound big to them, but she needed every cent of it. And why should she and Blanche and Bert who worked hard for everything they had, have to support the other two, the two that had done as they pleased, not married, raised families, never stopping to think where the money was to come from!

But later, having Christmas dinner at Claudine's, sitting around the big dining room table that used to be in the old house, seeing Claudine, hot and tired, but happy, bringing in the big turkey for Christmas to carve, watching the children, Jean and Sue and little Patsy Anne, even Junior grown tall and shy now, she was ashamed for her earlier thoughts.

Lawrie and Della went to Della's mother's, but all the rest were there. The same crowded little flat Linda remembered so well, the same pinched, poverty-stricken air. Claudine beginning to be gray around the temples, stooped, unkempt, and the three little girls rosy and good. Even Chester, in his best shiny blue suit, and a Christmas necktie, was somehow pathetic. Bert, who should have been a young, gay bachelor still, looked ently never taken place. The same gray boards, the same worn, sagging steps. A torn shade in the front room upstairs. A child's velocipede on the porch. The little winter pear tree gone, the driveway that someone had strewn with cinders, weeping black tears on the icy coping.

"We could go in if you like, dear, but I really think—"

"No, you were right, Blanche. There's nothing to see. It was crazy to come."

"It WAS a long drive, for just that," the girl friend said, starting the engine again.

"We'll stop and have some nice hot tea, somewhere," Blanche suggested brightly.

"Tea?" The girl friend squinted in Linda's direction.

Blanche's color rose. "Well—we could get a Tom and Jerry at Dink's place," Blanche agreed reluctantly.

"Gracious, I should hope so! Linda isn't such a baby! You've been in 'speaks haven't you? Living in New York? Of course she has, Perry!"

"Whatever you say," Linda said. If they thought they were being devilish, and could get any fun out of going to a speak-easy, a couple of middle-aged old girls, without any man to take them, then she wouldn't spoil their fun.

At first, every small luxury she bought for herself worried her. A new pair of silk stockings, and she remembered Caludine's clumsily mended runs. A bargain silk nightie for herself, and she thought of Blanche's cheap rayons.

I ought to send more than $10, she'd think guiltily.... Well, the way to do that was to make more money.

Mr. Bottinger, kind and fatherly, was surprised that she should ask.

He pointed out that $110 a month was a very decent salary, that the work was not too heavy, and the surroundings pleasant. "I thought you were very satisfied," he said, disturbed.

"Oh, I am," she assured him. "I really am!"

But she wasn't. Other girls, in other offices—a few in her own, got more.

There is an old saying: "Nothing is made by man or machine but what can be cheapened and sold for less." We do not make any flimsy statements that we will not be undersold, but we invite honest and fair comparison of quality and price as well as constructive criticism. We NEVER mark merchandise higher so that we can reduce them for a sale.
